OPEN CALL FOR YOUNG MUSICIANS & BANDS

The TREMOLO Project (www.tremoloproject.eu) is excited to announce an open-call for young and emerging artists active in the field of trad/folk-fusion and world music in Hungary, Serbia and Sicily!

The call is open for musicians and bands aged 18-35*, who will be involved in a cooperation project with the aim of promoting the trans-national mobility of young artists involved with intangible heritage.

The artistic direction of the 3 partners of the project will select a musician/singer/songwriter or band of talented and emerging musicians from their respective region, who will be guided through a talent development trajectory that includes:

- mentorship by qualified musicians with solid experience in international touring,
- workshops/conferences to develop their artistic profile and communication strategies with an international perspective,
- 3 creative residencies together with peer musicians from the project partner countries to create a new joint performance,
- 3 touring experiences in the World Music Festivals organized by the project partners in Hungary, Serbia and Italy.
- additional touring opportunities with Associate Partners in Germany, France, Poland

We are looking for young artists and bands field of traditional, folk and world music:

- Aged 18 to 35(*) at the expiration date of this call.
- Who are based in Hungary, Serbia and Sicily
- Who demonstrate a good knowledge of the music traditions of their own region, and enjoy practising their local traditional music with a creative, contemporary approach.
- Who have already started a music project that is clearly identified, with at least 1 year of experience and a growing fan-base in their local environment, and show a good potential for increasing their audience through international touring.
- Who are excited to share their music with like-minded young musicians from different countries, and be involved in the co-creation of a new joint performance to promote the TREMOLO Project objectives in a European context.
- Who are willing to commit themselves to fulfil all the planned activities of the TREMOLO Project

(*) For bands, at least 66% of members shall meet the age restrictions to be eligible.
